

I'm so thankful for . . .

- The clothes that are a little too snug, because it means I have enough to eat.
- The mess to clean up after a party, because it means I have been surrounded by friends.
- My shadow that watches me work, because it means I am out in the sunshine.
- A lawn that needs mowing, windows that need cleaning and gutters that need fixing, because it means I have a home.
- All the complaining I hear about our government, because it means we have freedom of speech.
- My huge heating bill, because it means I am warm.
- The lady behind me in church who sings off key, because it means that I can hear.
- The piles of laundry and ironing, because it means I have clothes to wear.
- Weariness and aching muscles at the end of the day, because it means I have been productive.
- Getting too much e-mail, because it lets me know I have friends who are thinking of me.
- The taxes I pay, because it means that I'm employed.
- The alarm that goes off in the early morning, because it means I'm alive.
